

Employment Letter

Every employed adult in your household must have an employment letter on their employer's letterhead. The letter should include:

1. Position
2. Salary and any additional compensation
3. Length of employment
4. Future with the company